WEDDING DÉCOR TRENDS

TOP TIP

Initially, as you embark on planning your very special day, all the wedding styles available to you can be overwhelming. Go with your innate sense of style and with what catches your eye – a single flower or a piece of ribbon can set the theme for your most important day.

STYLES BROKEN DOWN

PURPLE PASSION

The dull gleam of the pewter cake stand showcases the dramatic deep purple and lilac tones of the flowers. Mix and match your flower styles and textures – we used dry hydrangea with fresh lilac roses which created a lovely, interesting contrast. The detailed silver mesh ribbon on the bouquet adds texture to the flower stems and crystal candlesticks and champagne glasses introduce elegance to the setting.

ECLECTIC ECO

Brassica and chincherinchees encircled with vine is an interesting choice of bouquet for the bride who prefers a natural, yet unusual style. Table flowers echo the style by using a pumpkin filled with brassica with a bright red celosia introduced as an accent. The vine in the bouquet is reintroduced by placing it underneath the flowers. The accent colour of your choice could be tied around your serviettes, perhaps with a single brassica tucked into the ribbon.

LOVELY LAVENDER

A series of small 'French blue' containers, filled with lilac lisianthus blooms creates a peaceful, gentle theme, which is beautiful in its simplicity. The contrast of the rusted surface and the row of taps enhances the flower colours. Small lavender bunches can also be tied onto your church pews or the back of your guests' chairs.

TOP TIP

Lavender can also be scattered outside your chapel or church – as the guests walk into the church for your wedding ceremony, the lavender fragrance will be released – beautiful and memorable!

VIBRANT AFRICA

Combine bright, vibrant flowers with wood and vine – we used anthuriums, gladioli, king proteas and gerberas, with aloes, to create an interesting combination of shapes, colours and textures. Beadwork could add the finishing touches to table centrepieces and the napkins.

VINTAGE GLAM

Evoke romantic memories of yesteryear, by incorporating gentle flowers with silver, crystal and pearls. The embroidered lace and linen completes the look. Roses, lisianthus and anastacia in pale pinks, whites and cream combine well to create a soft and gentle bouquet. The addition of pearls and lace to your bouquet stems, flower containers and table napkins will complete this gracious décor style.
