Let them eat Cake

Capture the beauty and drama of the French Baroque era. Opulence and luxury are in favour, alongside all things decadent and ornate. This theme is all about elegance, vintage romance and over-the-top use of luxury touches and a mixture of colours. Let your imagination run wild…

PINK AND PERIWINKLE BLUE TRIBUTE TO MARIE ANTOINETTE

Delight in the exquisite detail on these magnificent cakes and biscuits - guaranteed to tantalise your senses, and almost too good to eat.
Ribbons, lace, feathers and laser-cut baroque motifs provide the texture for the bespoke invitation, menu, serviette bodice and table number.
The delicate lace and beadwork detail adorning the handcrafted menu is repeated on the linen napkins.
Feathers and crystals soften and add interest to the silver candelabra, adding an air of frivolity.

Feathers and flowers add to the pretty simplicity of the 2 tiered cake , decorated with pink rose buds and blue ribbon icing.
Antique silver containers filled with an unexpected choice of flowers create a beautiful and interesting statement.
Silver and crockery, stylist's own. Cupcakes with perfectly detailed handcrafted iced shoes and hats providethe 'wow' factor.
Isabella wears a bespoke alice band created by Occasions.

Save the Date magnets are a must-have for the modern-day bride, announcing your special day to friends and family. These personalised magnets afford your guests the opportunity to plan to attend your wedding well in advance. An interesting kitchen tea invitation, inspired by a ladies boater hat, provides a clue to the festivities. Proteas create a bold statement which can be softened by adding whimsy in the form of feathers, butterflies and pearls. Carnations grouped together in an interesting container are delicate, frilly and feminine. The Peonies and full blown Roses, combined with Ostrich feathers, crystals and tulle, make for an unusual, eyecatching and ornate bouquet.
